A Cleveland native and graduate of the Bowling Green State University College of Music, Matthew Skitzki is a professional pianist based in downtown Cleveland. He maintains an active performance schedule in classical, jazz, and other styles of music.

In Cleveland, Matthew has performed at Nighttown and Severance Hall, home of the world famous Cleveland Orchestra. Beyond Cleveland, Matthew has performed in venues in New York City and Washington D.C.

Matthew teaches and coaches vocalists out of his private studio in Cleveland. He is currently pursuing a Master of Music degree with Grammy Award-winning pianist Dr. Angelin Chang at Cleveland State University.

Matthew is the winner of the 2010 Daniel Rains Concerto Competition, has released his debut album entitled "Skitzki" and has been interviewed on National Public Radio.
